Choices & Replies

To apply to college; I have checked the course deadlines and know to apply directly to each college.

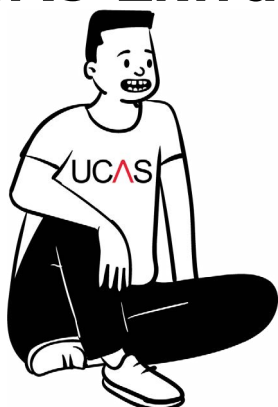

I am keeping an eye on my e-mail (including junk) for updates on my application.

I am using UCAS Track to keep up to date on the progress of my university applications.

I have made a pro/con list to help me decide which offer is right for me!

UCAS Extra & Clearing

I have checked my UCAS track and understand the offers that have been made to me.

I have searched UCAS for courses with vacancies and added ONE choice through UCAS Extra.

After 5th of July; I have contacted University Clearing services to enquire about alternative options.

I have considered and researched HNC or HND courses available to study at college.

Funding & SAAS

I have checked what funding I am eligible for on the SAAS website.

I know what information I need to give to SAAS as part of the application process.

I am prepared to start the application process from 6th April 2022 and complete by the 30th June 2022.

I have checked to see if there are other bursaries, grants or scholarships that I can apply for.

Budgeting & Accommodation

I have considered if I will need to get a part-time job whilst studying.

I feel confident in creating a simple budget for myself and know how much funding I will receive.

I have looked at what accommodation is available near my chosen institution.

I have applied for a place at Halls of Residence or private accommodation.

Support

After accepting an offer: I have contacted my chosen institution to let them know my support needs.

I have looked up student services at my chosen institution and know what support is available to me.

I am prepared to be proactive and ask for the support I require to succeed.

I have started or completed a Disabled Students Allowance (DSA) Application, if applicable.

Good luck taking the next steps in your education journey! However, it's not goodbye from LIFT OFF yet; the team are available to support you until you leave school and you can stay in touch with us via social media. Look out for future volunteering opportunities!
